The Musical Heritage of Al-Andalus

Dwight Reynolds

Series: SOAS Studies in Music

The Musical Heritage of Al-Andalus is a critical account of the history of Andalusian music in Iberia from the Islamic conquest of 711 to the final expulsion of the Moriscos (Spanish Muslims converted to Christianity) in the early 17th century.

It presents the documentations, accompanied by critical analyses of the sources written in Arabic, Old Catalan, Castilian, Hebrew, and Latin along with being informed by author's research on modern Andalusian musical traditions in Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Egypt, Lebanon and Syria.

The overarching purpose of this work is to elucidate different types of musical interactions that took place in medieval Iberia.
