

RFG Roundtable: AASC Works-in-Progress

MAR
6
MON

12:00 – 1:30 PM

5024 HSSB

Learn more: bit.ly/AASC-IHC

The Asian/American Studies Collective's Work-in-Progress Roundtables are an opportunity for UCSB graduate students to receive feedback on draft presentations of their research. On this occasion, we will be hearing from three graduate students who will be presenting at the annual conference of the Association for Asian American Studies. Please join us to hear from our presenters and provide valuable feedback. This event is open to all members of the UCSB community. No registration is required.

MIKA THORNBURG (History) | American Models & Hotel Occupiers: The Role of Tourism in the Entanglement of American and Japanese Settler Colonialisms

CLARA CHIN (English) | oh, i taste so good: @breadfaceblog and The Intimacies of Self-Curation

JANNA HAIDER (History) | Entitled to Citizenship: Witness Networks and Asian Settler Colonialism in the Hawaiian Islands, 1923–1952

Sponsored by the IHC's Asian/American Studies Collective Research Focus Group