In this talk, Prof. Nicola Daly will traverse a range of research studies exploring the contribution of dual-language picturebooks to language revitalisation in Aotearoa New Zealand. Drawing on her new book, Language, Identity and Diversity in Picturebooks: An Aotearoa New Zealand Perspective, she will present findings showing how dual-language picturebooks in Aotearoa can both reflect and disrupt language hierarchies.

Nicola Daly is a sociolinguist and Associate Professor in the Division of Education, University of Waikato, where she teaches children's literature and leads the Postgraduate Certificate in Children's and Young Adult Literature.

Cosponsored by the IHC's Global Childhood Media Research Focus Group, the Children's Literature, Cultural Preservation, and Language Revitalization Lecture Series, and the Department of Linguistics
